Are you looking for an adventure? Are you an environmental professional looking for a change of pace, and to break away from the hustle and bustle of a big city? Then why not check out the spectacular Northwest Territories (NWT)?

Calling environmental professionals with a passion for finding creative solutions to reduce and divert waste. Join our team in Yellowknife, as a Waste Reduction Advisor, and take advantage of the northern adventurer's paradise with the NWT's rugged terrain, midnight sun, and world-class aurora borealis. We're looking to fill a 2-year maternity leave for now, but that might just be your gateway to settling here for the long haul! (Just talk to most folks in town who came up for a short-term contract and are still here years later!)

Job Information

The Advisor is a senior expert in source reduction (waste prevention and reduction) and waste diversion (reuse and recycling). They work with a team of other staff in the Waste Reduction and Management Section (Section) as well as other technical experts in the Environmental Protection and Waste Management Division (Division) to advance source reduction and waste diversion in the NWT. The Advisor provides advice and assistance to senior managers, ECC staff, and other GNWT departments on environmental management issues as they pertain to source reduction and waste diversion and management.

The Advisor deals with a wide variety of activities that can have significant economic impacts on NWT residents, industry, municipalities and other GNWT departments. Creativity and innovation are required to develop programs and policies where no precedent exists nationally or internationally, or when a unique approach must be taken to meet the emerging needs of our political, social and economic environment.

Salary Information

The salary range for this position is from $53.80 per hour to $64.26 per hour (approximately $104,910 - $125,307.) plus an annual Northern Allowance of $3,700.
